Table of Contents

List of Illustrations 7

Acknowledgements 11

Abbreviations and Citation Practice 13

Introduction 15
Werewolves in Old Norse-Icelandic Literature 16
Werewolves in the Franco-Latin Tradition 20
Texts in Focus 23
Goals and Structure 28

Chapter 1: Þeir fóru í hamina 33
The Werewolf's Skin
The Skin's Position in Werewolf Literature 33
The Skin's Position in the Appearance–Essence Binary 37
The Skin of the Old Norse-Icelandic Werewolves 41
Ála flekks saga: A Case Study 47
From lupus to leprosus 52

Chapter 2: Klæddr eða nøkkviðr 61
The Werewolf's Clothing and the She-Wolf
The Clothes–Body Dynamics: The Man-Wolf 62
The Clothes–Body Dynamics: The Metaphorical She-Wolf 68
Dress: Definition, Classification, Function 71
From Naked to Clothed: The Knight 74
From Clothed to Naked: The Lady 80

Chapter 3: Et ek þeirra hold 91
The Werewolf's Food and Food Taboo
What and How Does a Wolf Eat? 92
Food and Taboo: What Werewolf Does or Does not Eat 94
Tabooed Food and Tabooed Sex: The She-Wolf's Appetite 99
The Scale of the Werewolf's (Possible) Food: The Acceptable 106
The Point of No Return: Human and Horse Flesh 113

Chapter 4: Á skóg með hryggðum 119
The Werewolf's Landscape and Mindscape
Theories and Tools: The Foundation 119
Mapping the Werewolf's Mindscape: An Overview 124
Úlfhams rímur: A Tale of Generations 134
Úlfhams rímur: Dark Land, Dark Mind 141

Chapter 5: From monstratus to monstrare 153
The Werewolf's Purpose
Classification of the Characters 153
(Were)wolf as Learner: monstratus 157
The Disguised Hero as Learner/monstratus, or the Werewolf's Pupil 164
Wolf as Teacher: monstrare 173
The Konungs skuggsjá Werewolves: The Foundations 184
The Konungs skuggsjá Werewolves: Teaching (of) the Wolf 189

Conclusion 197
What Can We Learn from the Wolf?

Works Cited 205

Index 223